Student Council

The Student Council is the student government of Middlesex Middle School. The Council meets weekly with their advisors to discuss and plan events. Every homeroom may be represented by any students who are willing to serve in this capacity. Executive Officers are chosen by all students in school-wide elections. The Council has two faculty advisors.

The success or failure of the School Council depends on you, the student, who elects the executive officers and gives those persons the ideas, encouragement, and opinions, which make the Council work.

The Council has many things to do, but its main job is to talk about and deal with students' concerns. The Council also:

- Plans social events, tournaments, and other activities
- Helps to run the Magazine Drive
- Discusses ideas with the Principal/Assistant Principals.

Student Publications

The Dragon: This student newspaper publishes throughout the year and is available online.

Yearbook: Each year a group of students and faculty members work year round to design and produce a theme-based book of events and faces that have shaped the current school year. Students learn layout, photography, and design elements in a deadline-driven environment. Open to highly motivated students in grade 6-8.
